

Woolcock Institute Media Contact & Spokespeople Update

The Woolcock Institute of Medical Research is a leader in sleep and respiratory research – below is a list of media spokespeople and their areas of expertise:

We have recently changed our Public Relations service provider. All future requests for interviews or comment on relevant topics should initially be directed to: Dr David Andrews, Chief Operating Officer, Woolcock Institute of Medical Research, on 02 91 14 0350.

To receive Woolcock media releases please register at www.woolcock.org.au/news.html.

Sleep Spokespeople

- Prof. Ron Grunstein, Sleep Physician and Head of Sleep and Circadian Research Group
– Sleep Apnea, pharmaceutical medications, shiftwork, fatigue, jet lag
- Dr Delwyn Bartlett, Sleep Psychologist
– specialising in Insomnia and jet lag
- Dr Peter Liu, Sleep Physician
– special interest in Obstructive Sleep Apnea (OSA), Obesity and Restless Leg Syndrome (RLS)
- Dr Peter Buchanan, Sleep Physician
– specialising in Parasomnias
- Prof. Peter Cistulli, Sleep Physician
– special interest in Obstructive Sleep Apnea (OSA)

Asthma and Respiratory Spokespeople

- Prof. Christine Jenkins, Respiratory Physician, Head of Airways Group
– specialising in Asthma and Chronic Obstructive Pulmonary Disease (COPD)
- Prof. Guy Marks, Respiratory Physician, Head of Epidemiology Group
– specialising in Asthma and environmental effects on respiratory health
- Dr Greg King, Respiratory Physician, Head of Imaging Group
– specialising in Asthma, Chronic Obstructive Pulmonary Disease (COPD) and lung function measurement
- Prof. Norbert Berend, Director of Woolcock Institute of Medical Research.

Allergies

- Dr. Euan Tovey, Head of Allergy Research Group

For further information contact:

Dr David Andrews
Chief Operating Officer
Woolcock Institute of Medical Research
|leaders in breathing and sleep research|
PO Box M77 Missenden Road NSW 2050, Australia
T 02 91 14 0350
E davidandrews@woolcock.org.au
W www.woolcock.org.au